Be CREATIVE

Committed to exploring the transformational power of arts and culture on society, HKBU offers a number of programmes across creative domains including Creative Writing, Film, Game Design & Animation, Music, Screen Studies, TV and Visual Arts enriched by a network of 50 interest clubs devoted to ignite the creativity of students.

“

Paulina Alonso (Mexico) Visual Arts | Year 2

Our teachers always encourage us to share our own ideas and thoughts. They guide us through the creative process and help us find ways to bring to life the visions in our heads. Studying Visual Arts so far from home is a great experience itself. Here I'm surrounded by a stimulating environment that inspires me to create new artworks. Artists need to have different experiences in order to tell a story through their artwork. This opportunity to live in Hong Kong for sure helps me achieve that.

Be INNOVATIVE

Dedicated to helping students think in new ways, nurture innovations and develop as entrepreneur, HKBU tests our student's limit via opportunities ranging from entrepreneurship bootcamps, startup programme held with the Sutardja Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology of University of California, Berkeley, and specialised programmes and awards in fields of Social Sciences and Visual Arts.

“

Amos Seng (Singapore) Pharmacy in Chinese Medicine | Year 2

Last summer, I worked as a student intern in my Professor's research laboratory, where I was able to apply theories and knowledge that I have learnt in classroom to the discovery and testing of new medicinal compounds. The real-life applications and research experiences allow me to develop critical and analytical thinking skills. I am proud to receive training for being a pharmaceutical professional through HKBU's unique East-meets-West approach, where traditional Chinese Medicine is combined with modern research and development techniques.

Be GLOBAL

Seeking to nurture global citizens who transcend cultures, HKBU encourages students to personally experience the reality of globalisation by joining our overseas internships, exchange programmes or service-learning opportunities. Our series of international conferences, worldwide competitions and national performances also give students the opportunity to engage with peers from around the world.

“

Rustam Juraev (Tajikistan) Applied Economics | Year 4

I was given the opportunity to participate in one of the biggest Model United Nations Conferences in Madrid, Spain, with more than 2000 participants from over 110 countries, as a representative of HKBU. It was a valuable experience participating in debates and negotiations with fellow students from around the globe, especially as a “delegate” representing the interests of a particular region in a simulated setting. Furthermore, it was a perfect chance for me to make friends from different parts of the world.

Be CARING

Beyond big dreams and innovative ideas, HKBU believes that being connected with one’s community is also key to leading a meaningful life. Our service-learning opportunities invite students to explore other parts of the world and witness the profound transformative impact that their caring can have on people and communities.

Yerkegali Zhamalbekov (Kazakhstan) Computer Science | Year 3

HKBU offers numerous opportunities for students to exhibit caring and concern to people in need. I had a chance to educate children at a local elementary school in Ubud during a service trip in Bali arranged by the Undergraduate Halls. I immersed myself into the local culture and customs, engaged in activities with children as a caring teacher, and took part in some renovation work in a local village as a volunteer. This experience helps me understand the meaning of life and the importance of mutual support and respect among people.
